The Missouri Department of Corrections January • 2001

Did you know?

Children of incarcerated parents are over five times more likely to commit crimes than are their peers. MoDOC is concerned about the impact of incarceration on the children of inmates and is working to:

- 1 Provide meaningful opportunities for regular interaction between offenders and their children to strengthen the family unit.
- 2 Break the cycle of crime in offender families to reduce the likelihood children at risk will become involved in the criminal justice system.

Long Distance Dads, DOC's most recent initiative, is a character-based educational and support program to assist incarcerated men in developing skills to become more involved and supportive fathers. The peer-facilitated, twelve-week program has been piloted at Algoa, Northeast and Western Missouri correctional centers. Plans to expand the program to all male facilities are underway.

Other DOC supported programs that strengthen families include:

- Girl Scouts Beyond Bars
- Mothers and Children Together
- Parents and Their Children (PATCH)
- Children of Incarcerated Parents (CHIPs)
- Parents As Teachers
- StoryLink
